CFTC RULE 4.41 Hypothetical or simulated performance results have certain inherent limitations. Unlike an actual performance record, simulated results do not represent actual trading. Also, since the trades have not actually been executed, the results may have under- or over-compensated for the impact, if any, of certain market factors, such as lack of liquidity. Simulated trading programs in general are also subject to the fact that they are designed with the benefit of hindsight. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those shown. Trading is a speculative, high-risk activity that is difficult and is not suitable for most individuals. You hereby agree to hold Ken Calhoun free of any and all liability of any kind by watching this video.
